

The background of the cover is an intricate, embossed landscape. On the left, a large tree trunk with several thick, gnarled branches extends upwards. The rest of the scene is filled with dense, textured foliage, including various types of trees and bushes. In the lower half, a winding path or stream flows through a valley, flanked by more trees and leading towards a range of rolling hills or mountains in the distance. The entire scene is rendered in a monochromatic green color with varying shades and textures achieved through the embossing process.

Senior Class Prophecy

In our glimpse into the future one of the first boys that meets our eyes is Billy Bolick. He is now running one of the largest race horse stables in the United States. Barbara Lentz, one of our high school chums, is now a famous model for Rezook's. Pete Greene has now replaced Mr. Lentz as high school athletic director. We now see Malcolm Craig pushing OLD BETSY like he was in '51. Bill Bolick is still thumbing his way to Boone but we think he's getting a little old for that. Gail Williams is still stuck in a mud hole with his mother-in-law trying to push him out.

Louise Tolbert is thinking back on those years when she could have caught a "FORD". Charles Klutz is now running the kitchen of the STORK CLUB in New York—He's short order cook. Marvin Hartley is now a second lieutenant on active duty in the Pacific and writes his UNCLE SAM every week. Naomi Cook and Jimmy Greene are now MRS. AND MR. and he is now running Greene's Grocery. Shirley Barnett is still hoping she can have a baseball team and from the looks of things she is doing pretty good. Taft Broyhill is now being promoted to manager of BRIGGS in Detroit.

FLASH—Keith Storie's ambition has been fulfilled. He is now a gunner for UNCLE SAM.
